FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

GOD'S JUDGEMENT AND HIS MERCY

We can do nothing to merit salvation, and our wicked actions could only cause our condemnation. God has given us salvation gratuitously, as the second reading tells us.

The first reading insists on the responsibility of people who, by refusing to follow God's way, condemn themselves to unhappiness. The Gospel joins these two themes; it first speaks of the love of God, which is so great that he gives us his Son, and then it insists on the responsibility of people, who, challenged by this proposal of love, have to make their choice.

Salvation is not given to us because of our merits, it is a gratuitous gift from the father who loves us so much that he gave up his Son to die for us. Though we cannot gain salvation through good works, it is also true that such good works are a necessary response to the love God has for us. They are the signs that the grace of God penetrated into our hearts and it is producing fruit. May our spiritual works of mercy during this holy season of Lent help us to respond positively to God's love towards us.

Blessings!
