FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

PEACE BE WITH YOU!

One sentence that we hear repeated so often in the Eastertide is, "Peace be with you." Every time Jesus appears to his apostles he greets them, "Shalom aleichem!"

Earlier, in the course of his farewell address to his apostles before his passion and death, Jesus had told them not to let their hearts be troubled at his going away: "Peace I leave with you; my peace I give to you"; but he added 'not as the world gives do I give to you' (Jn. 14:27). Again, he says to them, "I have said this to you so that you may have peace" (Jn. 16:33). In the Gospel text of today, he says yet again, "Peace be with you" (Lk 24:36).

'Peace' is a word which features a lot in the Christian vocabulary. We use it so often, especially during the Eucharistic celebration: In the Gloria: Glory to God in the highest, and peace to his people on earth; In the prayers after Our Father: Deliver us, Lord, from every evil, and grant us peace in our day; followed by the prayer for peace: Grant us the peace and unity of your kingdom ...; The peace of the Lord be with you always; We end the "Lamb of God" saying, Lamb of God, you take away the sins of the world, grant us peace." And finally, in dismissing the congregation, the priest says, "Go in peace". 'Peace' forms part of other prayers and blessings too:

It would be interesting in the Eastertide to pay attention to this: how often do we hear this word throughout the day? How exactly does peace apply in the context of our faith in the Risen Christ?

As Christians, our very presence in the world is to bring "shalom" to our neighborhood – our homes, our places of work, our schools, and in the streets. During the Eucharistic celebration when the priest invites us to "offer each other the sign of peace," it is only symbolic of our call to share that peace with others. It might be easy to shake hands with the one who happens to be next to us during the Mass, but as I do that, am I willing to share my peace with that person out there, whom I find so difficult to love?

Let this season of Easter and this Eucharistic celebration offer us a possibility of enjoying peace: to believe in God who is in control of our history; to participate in the life promised by the Lord; and to be a sign of peace in the world.

Blessings!
